01 · ARTIST IDENTITY

Antony Well is a Brazilian DJ and producer whose catalog operates at the intersection of Progressive House, Melodic House & Techno, and Melodic Techno. Active since 2011, his work is defined by emotional depth, harmonic precision, and an instinct for cinematic tension on the dancefloor.

With 39+ releases across 21 international labels — including ESOM Records, Electric Eden Records, Loop Play Records, and Emergent States Records — his catalog reflects a deliberate, chapter-based artistic philosophy. Not volume. Architecture.

As curator of the Velvet Touch chart series on Beatport (10 editions), Antony Well extends his editorial voice beyond production — mapping the emotional geography of the underground with selections that span Organic House, Deep House, and Melodic Techno.

08 · EXTENDED BIOGRAPHY

Antony Well is a Brazilian DJ and producer whose work is built around a single conviction: that electronic music is not a sequence of tracks, but an architecture of decisions. Active since 2011, he began in the progressive underground of southern Brazil, developing a sonic language rooted in harmonic patience, emotional tension, and cinematic atmospheres.

His catalog reflects a deliberate chapter-based philosophy. The first era, between 2011 and 2013, established a relationship with progressive form and underground release culture through labels including 0db Records, Octane, Soul Shift, and Sweet Place Records. A period of silence and recalibration followed — a conscious step away from output-as-volume, focused on sound design evolution and curatorial reset.

The return, beginning in 2025, produced 39+ releases across 21 international labels in under two years — a concentrated statement of artistic intent. Labels including ESOM Records, Electric Eden Records, Loop Play Records, Wise Jester Records, Uba Lua Records, Blechtrommel, Emergent States Records, and others reflect the breadth of his curatorial relationships across Europe, the Americas, and the global underground circuit.

Beyond production, Antony Well curates the Velvet Touch series on Beatport — a recurring DJ chart now in its tenth edition, spanning Melodic House & Techno, Organic House, Deep House, Techno, and Downtempo. He also publishes Between Beats, an ongoing editorial column in Revista DJ Sound, exploring the intersection of electronic music, technology, culture, and the curatorial decisions that define a living catalog.

His DJ sets extend the same architectural logic: harmonic progression, emotional flow, and precise structural direction. Each performance is an extension of the catalog — not a departure from it. Available for club bookings, festival performances, and b2b collaborations.
